The method of the reclistribution of the Great Northern and the Northern Pacing shares to the original owners is exciting curiosity and semiment in wair screen. Each stockholder who deposited his holdings with the $400,000,000 Northern securities Company is now receiving back 99 per cent, of his deposit. The one per cent withheld, it is explained by Mr. Hill and his associates, is to constitute the capital of a permanent corporation which will succeed the Northern Securities Company. This new corporation will therefore have a capitalization of $4,000,000 and it will insee about $11,000,000 of assets, representing various securities, and accrued profits of the bigger corporation which remain in the treasury after the pro-rata distribution to the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific stockholders. It appears to be taken for granted that all of the Northern Securities stockholders will acquiesce in this retention of one one-hundredth of their deposits. Thus far no remonstrance or objections have reached the public ear. It is scarcely possible that there will be any effective outery against Mr. Hill's plan to preserve a corporate successor to the Northern Securities Company, for the reason that the surplus assets give promise of rich returns to the stockholders of the new $4,000,000 company. President Hill's retlecence regarding the character and amount of these surplus as James J. Hill is not placarding his plan. E. H. Harriman, it is understood, will withdraw from the directoruses of the Deliver and Rio Grande and the Rio Grande Western railroads, which are owned by the Goulds. The report that Mr. Harriman would cease to be addrector of the Western Union Telegiaph Company is denied by George J. Gould, who controls this corporation. Wall street expects to see E. H. Harriman dropped from the Northern Pacific Board at the annual meeting of the stockholders af that company on May 18. The Union Pacific has partied with a large part of its Northern Securities stock and the Morgan-Hill-Kennedy interest will hold an overwhelming majority at the meeting.

A Great Sale of Summer Dresses

DaintyMaterial, Daintily Madein Latest Style From a Third to Half Under Regular

The hopes of a well-known maker of dainty Summer wear were just slightly nipped by the chill in the air and he was left with just ninety-six exquisite dresses he had made to fill re-orders that did not materialize. Of course he turned to us, and we bought them all at a great reduction. The very fact that there are so comparatively few removes the possibility of "being common"-exclusiveness being added to the most remarkable value.

Materials are lawn organdy, point d'esprit, linen-majority are all white, with a few dainty colored linens and organdies. All trimmed with embroideries, rufflings, tucking and laces in the pretty profusion of the season, and the styles are delightfully varied. We really consider it the best bargain in Summer dresses we have ever made. 15 Dresses at $9.98. Values up to $15. 18 Dresses at $14.98. Values up to $25.
